President U.G.G. also makes special appeal to farmers to support plebiscite on April 27

R. S. Law, president of the U.G.G. Ltd., adds his voice to others in urging western farmers to support the "Yes" vote on the plebiscite on April 27th. He recognizes that it is a busy time of the year, and there is not the usual campaign machinery to get out the vote. It is therefore the more of an individual responsibility. It is not enough to be passively in favor, he says. The votes of the farm people must be polled. "Western farm organizations such as the U.G.G." he says, "have had much to say about the national importance of Western Canada, and determination of farmers to play their full part in national effort. Now it becomes our duty to remind members of the national task to be performed on polling day. On that day we must see to it that the answer given from the prairies is clear and strong." He says further that no part of the country has greater determination that every ounce of this country's strength be employed for the prosecution of the war. One way to register that determination is on the plebiscite on April 27. Every restriction must be removed to make the Canadian war effort as effective as possible. A neglect to vote on that date may have serious consequences, and be bitterly regretted later.

Making Appeal Canadian Red Cross

Starting May 11, a Drive to be Conducted to Raise $9,000,000; Increasing Needs

An appeal for $9,000,000 in voluntary contributions to the work of the Red Cross Society will be launched throughout Canada on May 11th and through the succeeding two weeks. This was announced in a joint statement by Jackson Dods, chairman of the Central Council, and Mr. Justice P. H. Gordon, chairman of the National Executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

"The Canadian Red Cross Society needs urgently a minimum of $9,000,000 in order to carry on its work for the current twelve months in the mitigation of human suffering," the statement declared, continuing, "This is the first appeal since October, 1940, to the voluntary generosity of the Canadian people."

"It is only through the Canadian Red Cross Society that any Canadian can do anything for a Canadian, British, Australian or New Zealand prisoner-of-war. It is only through the Canadian Red Cross Society's Inquiry Bureau and its facilities for international investigation that information may be obtained as to missing Canadian fighting men. It is only through the services of the Blood Donor branch of the Red Cross Society's work that those Canadians who are unable to fight, can supply blood to make good some of that shed by our fighting men overseas."

The Red Cross is shipping 40,000 parcels to prisoners-of-war each week and has been asked to increase these shipments to 80,000 per week. The cost of supplying prisoners-of-war parcels this year alone is more than $5,000,000.

"The Red Cross Society needs now $9,000,000. With its campaign starting on May 11th, it will pursue an intensive canvass in which it hopes to reach every Canadian and to afford every citizen a patriotic opportunity to give to a noble cause."

REID HILL W. I.

The Reid Hill W.I. met at the home of Mrs. G. L. Clifford on Tuesday, April 21st, opening with the Creed and Salute. A good attendance was present. The group honored Princess Elizabeth by singing "The Maple Leaf Forever" on that day which was her birthday.

The roll call was answered with Penny Stretchers. An interesting feature of the meeting was a short talk on Gardening Hints by each of the members.

Regulations of the Wartime Prices and Trades Board were discussed and it was decided to write for their pamphlets. It was announced that Mrs. Munson will conduct Home Nursing classes at their Hill hall starting this Thursday.

Mrs. M. L. Todd has succeeded Mrs. E. R. Kuykendall as secretary. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Mainland. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, following which a tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

RED CROSS NOTES

The thanks of the committee of the Red Cross go to the following: Eastway Social Club, 1 large quilt and 1 crib quilt; Good Deeds W.I., 3 quilts; Grades I and II Vulcan public school, $3.00 for Milk for Britain fund; Miss Uga-Love, 12 pairs slippers.

EASTWAY

Mrs. F. Wyatt was hostess to the Social Club on April 16th, Mrs. W. Marshall presiding. The opening song was followed by the two minutes silent prayer for our forces. Correspondence and minutes were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. Lewis, and the lengthy business session included a unanimous vote for donations to be sent to the Canadian Prisoners' parcel fund, and the Milk for British Children fund. A vote of thanks was accorded a member for a donation of two quilt tops to the club. After much discussion it was decided to discontinue the meetings for two months to enable those who wish to attend the First Aid and Home Nursing classes, which are being instructed by Mrs. T. Lewis. In discontinuing the meetings for a time, the women of the community may find more leisure to attend the classes. Five separate work groups of members were organized to carry on the Club's work in aid of the Red Cross. It was also decided to forward small parcels to men serving overseas. During the program period, Mrs. W. Burgess gave an interesting and comprehensive talk on "One of the Seven Wonders of the World," choosing the largest of the Egyptian pyramids as her subject, several illustrations of this massive and wonderful creation were shown. The roll call was answered by naming a flower beginning with own initial. Mrs. H. Douglas won the raffle donated by the hostess and Mrs. Amey won the number guessing contest. The meeting was brought to a close by singing "There'll Always Be an England," and the serving of lunch by the hostess.

OUT OF BLACK-OUT

The following is a letter received by Group 2 of the Ladies' Aid from Sir. O. McCurdy of the Calgary Highlanders, overseas, to whom they had sent a parcel. The ladies are asked to take notice of the Sunshine fund and send donations to Mrs. R. Deal. The fund is to send parcels to the boys on active service. Mr. McCurdy writes:

March 10th: To the Group 2 Vulcan Ladies' Aid. It was indeed a most pleasant surprise to receive your lovely parcel today. Once Christmas has gone a month, we don't look for any more parcels until the next season rolls around. It's most kind of you to remember me, and I appreciate it very much.

The parcel was lovely in every respect, and it arrived in marvellous condition. I might just mention that a tin of meat in a parcel is very much treasured over here. You folks at home might wonder what to send us. I thought I would just mention that.

We have had quite a cold winter here, but the last couple of days have been grand. I have a frightful cold with a touch of pleuresy, but I'm o.k. now, thank goodness.

They are putting in a bit of garden here and I hope we get some good old Alberta sunshine. Haven't seen any Vulcan boys for ages. I don't know where they are at, but it's not far from here. I've had quite a lot of mail lately so have been busy trying to catch up on my correspondence.

Well, thanks again awfully. We are going to have some real Canadian coffee and cheese for a lunch tonight.

R.C.A.F. HEROES DECORATED BY KING

Four courageous Canadians received decorations from the hands of His Majesty the King at an investiture at Buckingham Palace. Pilot Officer Larry Robillard of Ottawa (left) was decorated with the Distinguished Flying Medal. He has a score of four aircraft destroyed and one "probable." The Distinguished Flying Cross was presented to Flight Sergeant B. C. Paige of Bridgeport, Ont., (2) after he safely navigated a Hudson bomber and its crew to its base. The aircraft flew so low in an attack on enemy shipping that one wing-tip clipped a projecting rock, disabling the starboard engine, rendering all instruments and turret unserviceable and extinguishing the lights. To Wing Commander Thomas C. Weir of Toronto and Winnipeg (3) went the Distinguished Flying Cross for bringing a disabled bomber and its crew to its base despite his own serious wounds. For risking his life to rescue a comrade from the wreckage of a burning plane after a take-off crash, Flying Officer Alexander J. Nicholson of Windsor (right) received the George Medal. Nicholson braved exploding ammunition and was blown 60 feet by the force of a blast, but both men survived.

THE PLEBISCITE

On Monday, April 27th, 1942, the Canadian Democracy is asked, to go all out, into action. On that date Canadian Citizens are being asked by Parliament to go to the polls and vote. The question upon which your opinion is solicited is, "Are you in favour of releasing the government from any obligation arising out of any past commitments restricting the methods of raising men for military service?"

A pledge not to conscript men for overseas service, was given by the leaders of the two major political parties at the last federal election. It was given again by the government, on the day on which parliament declared war in 1939, and again when the war measures act was passed by the House of Commons. Therefore, that the government should be perfectly free to act in these critical times, the people of Canada are asked to vote YES, to release the government from its pledge not to conscript men for overseas service.

The imminence of war draws daily closer, and closer, to our shores. The enemy is spreading wider, and wider, his sphere of conquest on sea, in the air, and on land. The marshalled might of tyranny threatens with tumultuous force, our security and freedom. In face of this crisis, parliament is asking the people of Canada to rally to the polls to vote YES, thereby placing the full responsibility of the disposition of men in the Active Army upon the Government of Canada.

Vote Yes... that the last barrier to immediate action may be removed. Vote Yes... that the full responsibility may rest squarely upon the government and parliament to decide the issue of conscription for overseas service.

Vote Yes... that the voice of a free people may be heard with resounding certainty in every capital of the world.

Vote Yes... that public opinion may prove to our enemies that democracy is effective, and can act promptly, and heroically.

I should like to emphatically appeal to every citizen to register his or her vote on Monday, April 27th. It will be your personal effort to help defeat Hitler. Apathy or indifference, on the part of any citizen, in this perilous hour, is an indication of unworthiness to be entrusted with the franchise. The ballot is the Canadians sacred token of citizenship and the sign of his or her responsibility in a democratic state. The honour and unity of Canada, and her duty to humanity depend on the response of the people to this vital question. Vote Yes, on Monday, April 27th.

JOHN CAMPBELL BOWEN,
Lieutenant-Governor.

Call to Alberta For Overwhelming Vote

Despite farm rush, any neglect to register supporting vote might have serious consequences

Representatives of cities and towns in Southern Alberta met in Calgary on Monday at an organization meeting held in connection with the coming plebiscite vote. The meeting was addressed by Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, who urged the imperative necessity of a maximum affirmative vote from Alberta, so that the federal government could be released from past commitments. It could go forward unrestricted by any previous pledges to achieve maximum war efforts.

A concern of the meeting was that country voters would be very busy at the time and might neglect to vote. Mr. Bowen replied: "If Hitler wins the war, the farmers won't be worrying about putting in their crops next spring."

Mayor W. D. Allan represented the town of Vulcan at the meeting.

Rural municipalities will also be circulated to rouse interest and arrange organization. Active organizations are already at work in large cities to get out the vote, and the same machinery is expected in smaller centres and in the country.

A general appeal is being made to all voters to make a point of registering their vote on April 27.

WAR NOTES

Brilliant Aerial Attacks of Recent Date; Laval's Return as French Premier Helps Nazis

One of the notable incidents of the past week has been the recall of Pierre Laval to the French cabinet. The aged Marshal Petain has succumbed to German pressure and the recall of Laval as premier places the direction of internal and external policies in his hands.

Laval has branded France's 1939 declaration of war as a crime, asserting that the condition for peace in Europe lies in France and Germany. He condemned British attack on French territory and leaves no doubt of the close co-operation with Germany.

The possibilities point to re-entrance of France into the war, with use of the still strong units of the navy. There is belief that officers of army and navy opposing the Laval policies will be purged. French war production may be speeded up to help Germany, and to take action against the Free French now fighting under General DeGaulle. Vichy controls North Africa which touches upon French Equatorial Africa held by DeGaulle. An outbreak of civil war in the French Empire is not impossible. Syria is considered a possible centre of outbreak, and this might fit in with Nazi moves in the middle East. An attack on Free French Syria by French warships will divert the strength of the allies in defending strategic areas.

In any event the return of Laval is likely to bring developments in hostility to the allies and greater support for Germany. France itself may be a centre of insurrection.

British Bomb Augsburg

The R.A.F. in prolonged daylight offensive upon Augsburg with new secret bombers, has performed one of the most daring feats of the war. This is the centre of a big Diesel works, said to be producing half of Germany's sub engines. This attack is described as the most brilliant ever attempted, and was most successful. In intensive action over 1000 planes have been engaged, penetrating well into the heart of Germany with machines of tremendous power. Sub bases and docks have been targets of incendiaries and explosives, and many new fires have been started at Augsburg.

Tokyo Loses Face

On the other side of the world, U.S. planes have avenged Pearl Harbor by launching offensive along a 1000 mile sweep of Japanese coast. Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe and other cities have been shaken under attack on ports and air factories. The city of Tokyo has a population of 7,000,000, one tenth of total population. These attacking planes may come from land bases on the Philippines, or from carriers. If the U.S. has a carrier fleet, it would imply also a strong U.S. protective naval force within 600 miles of the Japanese coast. This might serve in drawing off Jap fleets from the Indian Ocean.

Allied airmen have also been attacking Jap-held outposts in the region of Australia, and are credited with bringing down 40 Jap planes.

In Burma

R. A. F. planes, British tanks and Chinese infantry have been engaging in counter offensive in Burma, in the vicinity of the oilfields which the allies have wrecked before retreating. An

First Offenders

(Dunnville Chronicle)

At Kincardine the other day a farmer hauled a wagon behind a tractor without a license. The police officer admitted the farmer thought he was within his rights and not breaking the law that requires a license to be taken out to operate a trailer.

Pointing out that there is a difference of opinion on this question, Magistrate Walker ruled that when a wagon is hauled as a trailer behind a tractor, it ceases to be an implement of husbandry and becomes a trailer, but he made provision that should the department of highways rule otherwise the conviction registered against the farmer will be quashed.

Laws are meant primarily to protect society at large from deliberate offenders, and in a case like the above, why arrest and heap costs and disgrace on a man whose whole record had been that of a law-abiding citizen and whose offence, if there was one, was caused by ignorance?

Most police officers use good judgment—use their discretionary power with discrimination—but there are some others "too quick on the trigger." They apparently figure the number of arrests they make will impress their superior officers and lead to advancement. They do not realize that an officer who is too officious brings discredit on the whole force.

No Decrease Car Licenses Issued

About 900 Truck and Car Licenses From Local Office; No Complaints on Ration

Wm. Baird, issuer of car and truck licenses for this district, has disposed of about 900 licenses in the past month. This is very much the same as in past years, except that there has been prompter purchase owing to the ration book system. In some parts of the province, a decided drop in purchase of car licenses has been noticed. Some city people driving purely for pleasure have put away their cars for time being. There are also considerations of tire wear prompting people to get along without cars.

But Mr. Baird finds this district going along about as usual. There may be a few more licenses purchased for trucks which are used mainly in the summer and not in present use.

There have been no complaints on the ration system. Practically everyone has accepted regulations as a matter of course, taking the allotment as decreed by the controller. It is considered that the classifications have been on the whole very fair. As a matter of fact, the wear on tires is such a consideration that many people will probably find themselves using less gas than their quota allows them.

HERE AND THERE

Examination time will soon be here, and officials of the Department of Education estimate that about 16,500 high school students in Grade IX and XII will write them. This number is slightly below that of last year, and it is considered that enlistments among youths have reduced the total. Grade IX examinations will commence Wednesday, June 24 and will end Tuesday, June 30. Grade XII examinations will commence Tuesday, June 23 and end June 30.

The special feature of the program was a talk by Chief Mountain Horse, a full blood Indian chief of the Blackfoot tribe who spoke on "The Indians of the Western Prairies" and showed many interesting curios.

After Chief Mountain Horse's lecture, the Grade IX chorus sang under the leadership of Mr. Doney. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the King."

Ask Change In Farm Rationing

At the Macleod Board of Trade, a resolution strongly endorsed by townsmen and farmers urged that farmers in category B for gas rationing be permitted to purchase gas by the drum. The special situation in mind was outlined in the resolution as follows:

"Whereas, rationing of gasoline as affecting farmers who use their own caterpillar tractors and who do not operate trucks in their farming operations; and

"Whereas, these farmers, under category B in the coupon system, and who under the present ceiling are required to purchase their gas at retail pumps, not being allowed to purchase gas by the drum as farmers operating small trucks permitted to; and

"Whereas, this will prove a hardship to many farmers who use their cars to haul by trailer to market hogs, cattle and dairy produce, as well as hauling gas and oil to their fields to refuel their tractors and carry on their farm operations, and many living long distances from town, if required to haul gasoline in 10 or 12-gallon lots and would wear out tires by the unnecessary trips to town instead of saving rubber;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that this meeting urgently request the controller, Mr. Cottrell, to allow farmers in category B as outlined to purchase gas by the drum."

The resolution was endorsed by a large number of farmers and others present.

Communicable Disease and Care

Natural Immunity, Acquired Immunity; Control Regulations, Discussed by Dr. A. Somerville

Dr. Somerville, in addressing the combined Nursing Classes Tuesday evening on the subject of communicable diseases, defined these as diseases passed on from one to another person.

Direct contact causes most of the infectious diseases with which we are familiar.

He referred to "natural" immunity, and gave as examples the fact that cows can drink typhoid water, and do not contract typhoid; Alberta for example is immune to the tropical disease of malaria through climatic conditions; human beings are apparently immune to the distemper of dogs.

Certain races are relatively immune to certain diseases. The Jew is less, subject of all to T.B., possibly because the race has been forced to crowded ghettos, where only the strong could survive. The Indian on the other hand is extremely susceptible to T. B. and smallpox.

There is "acquired" immunity resulting from having the disease or from inoculation in some form. Immunity to smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid, whooping cough, etc., can be acquired by means of vaccination and inoculation. Scarlet fever has not proved so satisfactory in treatment, but after the first immunity is established, it can be re-enforced thereafter by single doses at intervals.

Control Regulations
In respect to communicable diseases, control regulations are practiced in order to break the chain of contact and thus break down the spread. Dr. Somerville instanced the Yellow fever which so threatened workers on Panama canal. That problem was solved by spreading oil over the water within a great area, thus banishing the mosquito which was the cause of the trouble.

By controlling the patient and reducing the size of the circle of contact, there is a check on the spread of the disease. The more prevalent the disease, the greater the severity as a rule.

Dr. Somerville then dealt briefly with isolation technique, the care which must be used in handling everything the patient uses and the excretions.

Referring to the old time fumigation so religiously practised, he said that much of that fuss was unnecessary and ineffective. Germs in the house may be killed with soap and water, or if desired, with the addition of lysol.

He emphasized that the householder is legally responsible for notifying the health officer if he suspects the presence of any communicable disease. It is not the responsibility of the health officer to ferret out these cases. It is the duty of the householder, and the further duty to notify the teacher within 18 hours. The doctor then described the various types of quarantine from total quarantine to modified quarantine.

Where It Hurts

(Brampton Conservator)

The government has decreed that 40 miles an hour is the speed limit for motorists. Familiar with the indifference to laws of this kind on the part of many good citizens the press is suggesting penalties for violations of the law. Here is one: The St. Thomas Times-Journal proposes that instead of imposing a monetary fine, the culprit should be ordered to surrender so many gasoline coupons. "Fine him the equivalent of a month's coupons for a first offense, 'three months for a second, and if that doesn't cure him, put him on the 'Indian list' for the duration of the war."

Bob Edwards' "Eye Opener"

Laurier calls Scotsmen "foreigners; Magnificent returns from chicken ranching, incubation overnight; Mlle. Rheo the crowning fake. Dreams of happiness

Well, gentle reader, take care of yourself. We are off to Blairmore to take part in a prize fight. We don't really want to go, but J. Young Byers of the Herald was down at Cardston addressing the Latter Day Saints last week, so we must keep our end up.

Laurier made a very bad break when he referred to Scotsmen as "foreigners." It will take all his agility to smooth that one over. His regret will be great when he learns how many people are mad about it.

Instead of appointing another license inspector, the city of Calgary should appoint a Chinaman to the post of civic laundrymen to handle the accumulation of dirty linen.

A Chicken Ranch

An English gentleman now in Calgary is about to start a chicken ranch in the outskirts. It will be on the same spot as the celebrated Belgian hare ranch which went up the spout some months ago. A chicken ranch is the best imaginable proposition on paper, and the rapid multiplying of birds from one setting runs into the billions. The number of chickens this gentleman expects to have in a couple of years is enough to stagger humanity and send it to its corner groggy. The patent incubator which he intends using will incubate an egg in one night. There may not be much feathers but a keen eye can detect the chicken. We trust he understands that hens do not give milk to young chickens born in incubators. They only suckle their own, and quite right too.

Mademoiselle Rheo

That most colossal of all fakes Mlle. Rheo, the palmist, has been sewing up the easy proposition of Calgary in Room 37 of the Alberta hotel. We enjoy seeing Calgary, a town of imperfectly educated and sparsely travelled suckers, getting tangled up with this sort of sideshow of an up-country fair. It may impress upon their minds once and for all that they are nothing but common garden chumps.

Any smooth guy, man or woman, can strike Calgary any given moment, and make a killing. The Rheo feature was in Edmonton and she made her ware. We wish her well, because she is a smart young woman, pleasant spoken and possessed of the true old Chicago South Clark St. method of jollying the populace out of one dollar a head. Even R. B. Bennett and Jerry Boyce, neither of them particularly celebrated as suckers, fell into the meshes.

This is the worst fake at present operating in the Territories.

Their Dream of Happiness

(Calgary Eye Opener 1912)

We have just gone to the trouble of canvassing a number of prominent men on their ideals of happiness.

Mayor Costello says that his ideal of happiness is wiggling through a third term without getting bumped. Cappy Smart's ideal is refereeing an important battle at Madison Square Gardens in his red sweater; Chief Cuddy to lie back with a good cigar and dream of a land where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest.

Commissioner Samis' ideal of happiness is to hang the editor of the Eye Opener; Dan Macleod to be the only clothing merchant within a radius of 100 miles; John Mosely to hear of something happening to Sir Wilfred Laurier; Jimmy Potts to be circulation manager of the London Daily Mail; Premier Sifton to have the legislative buildings shifted from Edmonton to Picadilly Circus.

A. A. McGillivray's ideal of happiness is to live in a country peopled with desperate criminals and be the only lawyer outside the Crown prosecutor.

R. B. Bennett's ideal of happiness is a seat in heaven with privilege of addressing the angels from the Throne; Jimmie Gardiner, making the bawbee part of our Canadian coinage; Judge Beck sitting on a case involving the future of someone he doesn't like; Manager Lydiatt giving local talent a chance to make good; Mrs. W. M. Davidson making Alberta a province blessed with free rural hospitals; the Eye Opener hoping she will succeed.

The Devil's Retirement

The Devil sat by a lake of fire
On a pile of sulphur kegs
His head was bowed upon his breast,
His tail between his legs.

A look of woe was on his face,
Sparks dropped from his eyes.
He had handed in his resignation
To the throne up in the skies.

"I am down and out," the Devil said
And said it with a sob.
There are others that outclass me
And I want to quit my job.

Hell isn't in it with the land
That lies along the Rhine,
I'm a has-been and a piker,
Therefore, I now resign.

Give my job to Hiro Hito,
Or the European hog,
To Pierre Laval or Quisling;
Just let them have the job.

I hate to leave my old home,
No spot I love so well,
But I know that I'm not up to date
In the art of running Hell.

One ammunition maker
With bloody shot and shell,
Knows more about damnation,
Than all the Imps of Hell.

So the Devil spat a squirt of steam
At a brimstone bumblebee,
And murmured that he thought he'd go
And hunt up Mussolini.

WAR NOTES

American Volunteer group were also in action to harass the Japs in their Burma invasion.

British sappers have destroyed 6000 oil wells in the Burma fields.

This offensive action in various quarters of the Pacific has shaken Japanese confidence. It is believed that the past week may be the beginning of ever-strengthening attack on the part of the allies.

Moscow reports destruction of 1000 Nazi planes in March and 500 in early April. Big guns of the Soviet are now ranged round Smolensk, a German occupied military centre. By the end of March, the Nazi is reckoned as having lost 38,000 airmen, a strong element of its most experienced men and is dependent on fliers with only short period of training.

GOOD DEEDS W. I.

The April meeting of the Good Deeds W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. R. S. Irwin, with a good attendance of visitors and members.

While members were quilting, a paper, prepared by Mrs. E. E. Andrews, convenor of Agriculture and Canadian Industry, was read by Mrs. Budd Andrews. Seeds were exchanged and members decided to exchange house and garden plants at the May meeting.

Mrs. B. Andrews gave a very interesting report on the Conference held in Lethbridge.

The ladies decided to hold a bake and apron sale on Saturday, May 16th. A quilt, the top of which was pieced by Miss Marion Irwin, will also be raffled on that day. Members are requested to bring an apron to the next meeting.

In the absence of Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Lilly distributed the sewing and knitting for refugees. Three quilts for the Red Cross were handed in by Mrs. Wylie, Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Lilly. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Dennison.
